India is known for its age-old tradition and culture, which attracts the people from all corners of the globe. Besides, India is also known for its age-old time tested traditional health care system like Naturopathy and Yoga. These systems, once totally neglected, have drawn the attention of health seekers again. These systems not only have curative effect but more importantly health promotive & disease preventive effects. The entire world is looking for some alternative to the existing modern medical system, which failed to prove efficacious in several disease conditions. This has necessitated the modern system of medicine to integrate the traditional systems in health care delivery.

As increased affinity towards the natural way of living & the traditional methods of treatment is observed now-a-day, especially from the educated group. The reason is a new awareness about the wonderful role of Mother Nature in the fields of promotion of health & prolongation of healthy life is gradually developing.

Naturopathy is a system of healing science stimulating the body's inherent power to regain health with the help of five great elements of Nature-Earth, Water, Air Fire & Ether. Nature Cure principle believes that all the diseases arise due to accumulation of morbid matter in the body & if scope is given for removal of it provides a cure or relief. It also believes that the human body possesses inherent self-constructing & self-healing powers.

Though the basic Nature Cure deals only with Pancha Mahabhoota treatments, the recent developments advocate the practice of other drugless therapies like Massage, Eletrotherapy, Physiotherapy, Acupuncture & Acupressure, Magneto therapy, Diet therapy, etc. the Yoga therapy also found places in nature Cure treatment modalities.

The Nature Cure movement gained momentum in India when Mahatma Gandhiji took interest. He not only preached the principles of Naturopathy to his fellow-beings but also adopted the same in his life.
